GREAT WINES FOR RESTAURANTS AND HOSPITALITY

Our promise at Mr.Wheeler is “We choose better wines.” We offer a wine list covering all major styles of wine, classic and trending, European and further afield, for the restaurant and hospitality sector.

Mr.Wheeler is a family-run wine specialist, based on the Essex-Suffolk border, and has been since 1883. Our chairman is Johnny Wheeler, the fifth generation in the business. We pride ourselves on an unparalleled range, sourced and shipped direct from interesting independent producers worldwide. Our relationships with many growers go back decades which enables us to pick the best of their wines for you.

Mr.Wheeler is a founder member of Merchant Vintners, a buying group comprised of twenty of the UK’s biggest independent wine merchants. This allows us to buy high volume and branded wines as competitively as any supplier.

We also have a specialist Fine Wine division which can source all your more premium needs quickly, cost effectively and professionally.

GREAT PEOPLE

Simon Gotelee worked in wineries in France, California and Australia before spending thirty varied years in the wine trade as a marketing manager and salesman for Penfold's, Taylor's Port and Veuve Clicquot, among others. He came back home to Essex in 2013 to run Mr.Wheeler's hotel & restaurant sales division.

E _simon@mrwheelerwine.com

Rachel Broderick moved from her hometown of Colchester to Noosa on the Sunshine Coast of Australia in 2004 with her family where they purchased and ran a highly successful restaurant 'Bistro on Thomas'. Upon selling the restaurant in 2014 she moved back to Colchester where she spent time in the real estate industry before changing course and following her passion of the wine trade by joining Mr.Wheeler's Customer Care team.

E _rachel@mrwheelerwine.com

Johnny Wheeler is our Executive Chairman and has worked in wine since an early age, including running the composite wholesaling side of the family business for some years. He has also completed seasons as a winemaker in New Zealand and is passionate about supplying individual, interesting wines, and ensuring that the family approach to our business delivers fantastic service across all aspects.

E _johnny@mrwheelerwine.com

Robin James, who as Head of Customer Experience, cannot help but ensure that our level of service to you is run as flawlessly as is possible. Any issues with service and delivery end here, usually swiftly. You could say it's personal. He's also hugely knowledgeable about wine and possesses not only a WSET Diploma (with merit), but a palate that can spot a falanghina at 30 paces. Once a man of media ad-sales at Canary Wharf, he once-upon-a-time discovered the fruit-of-the-vine and has been a huge asset to Mr.Wheeler since.

BORDEAUX

Bordeaux is simply indispensable to any successful wine list, and an area in which Mr. Wheeler has vast experience and expertise.

Having imported from both its Left and Right Banks for over four decades, we have established access to a network of producers whose wines continue to add breadth and value to our customers' wine lists.

This means authentic red wines from across the easily recognised appellations, from Bordeaux AOC to Saint-Emilion, Pauillac, Pomerol and Haut-Médoc which can include more curious points of interest for the well-versed drinker such as Fronsac or Cadillac. Whether your customers are inclined toward a plush, merlot-dominant blend or more structured, cabernet sauvignon-based cuvées, they'll find the right claret on your list.

Where crisp and dry or sweet and unctuous white wines are appropriate, Bordeaux's grand tradition in sauvignon blanc/sémillon blending has much to offer. Here, the Entre-Deux-Mers and Bordeaux Blanc appellations are perfect for those who like sleek fruit and heightened minerality in their whites, or the wines of Sauternes for those opting for a richer, honeyed fruit profile to enjoy with dessert dishes or on its own. (You can find more details and prices of the Sauternes in our 'Sweet Wines' section.)

Drinkers of finer, more age-worthy bottles will appreciate the options you can offer through Mr. Wheeler Fine Wine Desk's extensive fine wine cellar of great vintages from some of Bordeaux's most celebrated producers. Furthermore, you may purchase single bottles and split cases which allows you to control costs whilst heightening the prestige of your selection. From top to bottom, you've got Bordeaux covered.

BURGUNDY

We just love Burgundy. The elegance, the tradition, the terroir. Where else do pinot noir and chardonnay find such a breadth of expression and style?

But where to find some of this expression and style that is at the same time accessible to your customers? This is why Mr.Wheeler remains dedicated to sourcing authentic, great-value reds and whites that work on a wine list whilst reflecting these enduring qualities.

Importing often from small, family-run producers from across a host of appellations, our selection represents those producers whom we feel express a certain depth and vitality in their wines, elements that distinguish their 'sense of place' -- something not all wines of Burgundy do.

Burgundy remains as alluring as ever, and whether you're looking to offer a Volnay, a Chablis, a Nuits-St-Georges or Mâcon, it's a region Mr.Wheeler will help you represent to the utmost.

FINE WINE OFFER

Mr. Wheeler's decades of experience in stocking and trading some of the finest, rarest wines in the world means you can add further prestige to your wine selection with the addition single bottles or cases of Cru Classé Bordeaux, grand and premier cru Burgundy, vintage champagne, Rhône, Piedmont, Tuscany, Rioja, and vintage Port. There is also a treasure trove of much sought-after New World classics from California, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand and Argentina.

Recent examples range from Chateau Batailley 2006 all the way up to Chateau Mouton-Rothschild 1985. Mr. Wheeler's Fine Wines are all of impeccable pedigree and provenance.

Of course, should there be anything specific you're looking to list, don't hesitate to contact our team who will be only too pleased to assist in sourcing on your behalf.

BEAUJOLAIS

Just south of Burgundy-proper and a natural neighbour in style of wine is Beaujolais. For those customers with a penchant for youthful, cherry-fruited, light-bodied elegance and charm, gamay is an ideal alternative to traditional red Burgundy, and at comparatively sharp price points.

RHÔNE

Undoubtedly one of France's most iconic regions and one that customers choose from on wine lists for the overall quality, reliability and good value it continues to offer.

Rhône varietals are among the most recognised among UK drinkers and ones they feel confidence in purchasing: syrah, grenache, viognier and mourvèdre (to name a few) not only render opulent reds and rich, exotic whites, but make for wines that pair supremely with food.

Our focus here is on the southern Rhône, from which we've selected a few producers whom we feel express a particular authenticity in their wines whilst offering affordability. Be it a simple Côtes-du-Rhône or a more sophisticated Châteauneuf-du-Pape, we're confident you'll be inspired to delve deeper into the sublime drinking pleasure this classic region has to offer.

ALSACE

Undoubtedly one of France's more hidden treasures, Alsace in the country's north-east is one of Europe's key heartlands for riesling, pinot gris, pinot blanc and gewurztraminer.

Often produced in a riper, more powerful style, the wines of Alsace are ones of remarkable substance and are particularly supreme when paired with spicier styles of cuisine.

LOIRE

The Loire Valley remains a world benchmark for the purest, most sublime expressions of sauvignon blanc, and as such, a region from which Mr.Wheeler ensures the finest value-for-money cuvées are sourced.

Our producers in Sancerre, Pouilly-Fumé and Touraine make sauvignons of exceptional freshness, minerality and structure and with every vintage confirm why their wines remain so popular on our customers' lists.

Similarly, those who prefer their white wines crisp and elegant will also savour the Loire's other varietals and traditions Mr.Wheeler offers: zippy, 100% chenin blanc from Vouvray; brisk and vibrant Muscadet-sur-Lie from the Atlantic coast, and minerally, Chablis-styled chardonnay from the valley itself.

We're also sure to include a fresh and floral Chinon cabernet franc and delicate pinot noir from Sancerre for those looking for a light and vibrant reds.

FRENCH REGIONAL

There are few greater joys in what we do than exploring regional France to find those authentic, no-nonsense wines for offering to our customers.

Indeed, such appellations as Côtes-de-Roussillon, Languedoc or a simple Vin de France remain prime source for some of our best entry-level cuvées and ones that do well to showcase regional character whilst providing exceptionally good value for money. Of course, this also includes Côtes-de-Provence, without which could we not offer the most favoured rosé wines made today.

their Pinot Noir vineyards in southern Champagne.

CHAMPAGNE

As good as a Grande Marque Champagne may be, there is something particularly authentic in a 'grower champagne' that sets it apart from those on the supermarket shelf. There is something unique in a producer growing their own fruit for the in-house fermentation and bottling of their own cuvées.

Michel Guilleminot is one such récoltant-manipulant, and one Mr. Wheeler has been proud to be supplying to our trade customers for many years now. With Champagne Guilleminot's blanc-de-noirs brut, an aged Cuvée Prestige and the Rosé in our portfolio, we offer the purest expression of the champagne tradition at price points competitive to mass-produced labels. No champagne offer is complete without the opportunity for customers to enjoy such exclusive wines, which is what makes Champagne Guilleminot an ideal addition to your list.

SPARKLING WINE

Not every occasion calling for bubbles necessarily calls for champagne. Mr. Wheeler provides an excellent core range of ever-popular Prosecco, crémant and rosé options which make for ideal alternatives, usually at half the cost.

Our French crémant wines, for example, are typically made in the champagne tradition and display all the dry, citrus and biscuity 'brut' characteristics you would expect. As for Prosecco, you can be sure of listing classically styled cuvées that deliver the authentic, floral and appley aromas that will inspire drinkers on to that second (or third) glass.

For those customers who do require a champagne calibre, there is England's most celebrated sparkling wine, Nyetimber. Here are wines of such purity and finesse, they will routinely emerge triumphant in blind champagne tastings, and as such, remain highly sought-after. In 2018, their head winemaker, Cherie Spriggs, became the first outside of Champagne ever to be awarded 'Sparkling Wine Maker of the Year' by International Wine Challenge (IWC). Mr. Wheeler has for over ten years enjoyed a strong partnership with Nyetimber, providing our customers' sparkling wine offers with cuvées that are widely considered among the most elegant and prestigious in the world.

PEP UP YOUR POURING

Affordable pouring whites shouldn't always be set to 'default' varietals. Why not try something new?

Mr.Wheeler has a fine selection of alternative options which in most cases share common characteristics with the usual fare yet offer refreshing style, provenance and value.

SPAIN

With a surge in popularity of Spanish wines over the past decade-and-a-half, Spain's increasing importance on your wine list should not be overlooked. Nor does this just mean a token Rioja or Ribera del Duero.

Rather, to consider more diverse and increasingly popular options both red and white, and at price points that will encourage diners towards this much-loved wine nation. Whether a crisp, refreshing albarino, a floral and fruity bobal, or hearty Priorat, here are some authentic, excellent-value options to help broaden your Spanish offer.

“As a new independent restaurant and country pub, opening our doors just after the second COVID lockdown, we were looking for suppliers to come on a journey with us. We have probably now tasted over 250 wines from many suppliers, and ended up choosing Mr. Wheeler to be our main wine supplier due to their reputation and standing in the local area, and of course their supply of some great wines! We now have a list of over 40 wines with 10 by the glass, our menus change frequently and we like to ensure that the wines by the glass also change in line with the dishes we serve. Mr. Wheeler have been flexible, quick to react and in constant communication, so far we are delighted with their service.”

ITALY

Fewer countries are more synonymous with wine than Italy, and fewer sections on a wine list more important. Frankly, everyone loves Italia.

Mr.Wheeler offers a core selection of Italy's more popular red and white varietals from well recognised denominazioni and at price points that are sure to have your listings working at their best. From Piedmont to Tuscany, Veneto, Puglia, and beyond, here are all-time favourites in pinot grigio, sangiovese and nebbiolo, with grillo, fiano, primitivo and negroamaro as other delicious, alternative options for encouraging drinkers to discover more of Italy's regional abundance.

THE REST OF EUROPE

With the international success of English sparkling wine over the last fifteen years has come an increased customer interest in still wine production in England. Mr. Wheeler's selection of three from the New Hall Winery in Purlleigh, Essex, is the perfect introduction to those customers who are curious but cautious.

Sauvignon blanc drinkers will find the bacchus grape an intriguing alternative and one which has proven wildly popular with those who like their whites ultra-crisp, dry, grassy and floral. A brisk and crunchy rosé and vibrant, intensely cherry-fruited pinot blend complete the trio and provide a simple solution for the home-grown corner of your wine offer.

More experimental types can fling as far as Romania or Moldova for good-value pinot grigio and noir, to Portugal for a refreshing vinho verde and tinto blend, or trade up to Austria and Germany for riesling, grüner veltliner and zweigelt.

AUSTRALIA

Those who enjoy the more opulent side of classic grape varieties will often look Down Under on a wine list. If there's one country known for having the ideal climate for producing rich, powerful and luxurious wines, it is Australia.

Mr.Wheeler offers a compact, easy-to-list range of small-grower Aussie favourites where your customers can find a full-bodied shiraz, rich cabernet sauvignon, exotic chardonnay or riesling at very accessible price points. And with familiar appellations such as Clare Valley, Barossa Valley, South Australia and Victoria, they'll have confidence in ordering authentic Australian wines of genuine provenance.

“Setting up an account was easy, after our initial conversation and references we sat with our new account manager, Simon, and went to work designing the wine list for our pub and restaurant. As we have a real mix of customers we identified some premium wines which would complement our by the glass range.

“Simon from Mr.Wheeler really listened, took onboard my comments, my love and passion for wine and translated them into a wine list that meets the needs of the business (in terms of margins) whilst satisfying our customers’ love of wine.

“With special summer additions and one offs, wines for events there really is something for everyone. The Mr.Wheeler team communicate with me regularly to keep the list fresh, provide market insights and sales data from the past year. They live up to their promise of ‘We choose better wine’, and have helped changed my pub from a local to an award winning pub.”

NEW ZEALAND

Few wine-producing nations can boast the success that has been New Zealand's over the last thirty years.

Therefore, we've ensured our offer addresses those key varietals and regions that have proved so incredibly popular: sauvignon blanc, chardonnay, pinot noir and syrah produced in Marlborough, Hawke's Bay, Auckland, Nelson and Central Otago. Mr.Wheeler's range allows you to list New Zealand broadly in your offer, and to take advantage of the volume and premium trading opportunities these fantastic wines present.

USA

Mr. Wheeler offers easy add-on red Californian options with The Crusher's cabernet sauvignon and petite syrah from Clarksburg, California as well as a luscious pinot noir from Parker Station.

As wines of California are well-known for their premium-pricing tendencies, these snappy reds are a steal and an extremely convenient way to take care of your West Coast listings.

SOUTH AFRICA

Walter Pretorius, Winemaker
at Sumaridge Estate

Not only is just about every international varietal grown in South Africa, but its quality-price ratio can provide great commercial opportunities for your wine list.

Western Cape, Franschhoek, Upper Hemel-en-Aarde and Robertson are all well-recognised wine-growing regions we source from. Once inspired, the South African wine drinker and convert can also trade up to our more exclusive cuvées, which, when combined with our pouring options, makes for a strong representation of this wonderful wine producing corner of the New World.

ARGENTINA

It's difficult to think of any red wine varietal having had more widespread success in the UK trade than Argentinian Malbec.

It remains as indispensable to any modern-day wine list as it does to the country itself. And this is not to mention the beautifully ripe, brilliantly structured cabernet sauvignons, shirazes and chardonnays also coming out of Mendoza. Put these together, and you have the essence of Mr. Wheeler's selection. Add to this, then, vintages at four and five years of age, and you have opulent Argentinian reds in top drinking form that you can list mid-range and on a rather good margin.

CHILE

An enduring hot-spot for supreme value-for-money wines, Chile is where we've apportioned rather a lot of our trade offer attention.

Our selection of Chilean wines features best-known international varietals drinkers appreciate and at prices for offering both a comprehensive, unbeatable by-the-glass selection and accessible mid-range options for those looking to trade up. Among these, chardonnay, sauvignon blanc, pinot noir and carmenère, and all sourced from the more recognised regions of the country including Leyda Valley, Casablanca and Maipo Valley. Given the exceptional standard of quality of its wines, Chile presents equally exceptional commercial opportunities for both margin and volume turnover and will provide a solid foundation for any New World offering.

“We opened a new restaurant during the rather challenging circumstances of 2020. Mr. Wheeler helped us formulate our wine list, carefully matching the wine choices to the menu we had devised. Our customers are loving the wines, especially the ones with bubbles!

The service provided by Mr. Wheeler is very diligent, with an excellent delivery service. Any issues, like supply shortages, have always been dealt with efficiently.”

LEBANON

Chateau Musar is globally recognised as Lebanon's foremost producer whose Hochar family have been rendering their complex flagship blend of cabernet sauvignon, carignan and cinsault for over ninety years.

As a dedicated distributor, Johnny Wheeler has enjoyed a close partnership with Musar for over twenty-five years and is proud to continue offering the Jeune, Hochar and Chateau vintages that are the staple of any great wine list.

SWEET/PORT

Wine should not stop with a main course, so we offer a great selection of sweet wines and ports. So often is the dessert wine a missed opportunity for restaurant staff and one Mr. Wheeler's selection can help in developing.

Whether a classic Sauternes or 10-year-old tawny, fortifying your 'afters' offer is one detail to enhance the dining experience and give that little bit of extra turnover and margin that will not go unnoticed.

SHERRY

The contemporary, small-plate dining experience is always better when offered with a proper range of sherries.

Mr.Wheeler's selection of finos, olorosos and manzanillas are perfect for adding that bit of finesse to your offer, and for providing customers new options that are very much built-for-food or indeed after-dinner. In the UK market, sherry still represents the best quality-for-money ratio of any alcoholic beverage, and one full of potential for culinary discovery.
